Anger Over Dismissal

General Willing To Address Joint Session of House And Senate

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, April 11—(P)—Congressional Republicans, angered by President Truman's firing of General MacArthur, talked of "possible impeachments" today and got the General's agreement to address a joint session of Senate and House.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the GOP floor leaders, talked to MacArthur by transpacific telephone.

Martin announced to the House: "I am authorized to say that General MacArthur would be delighted to have an invitation to speak" to a joint session. He added that MacArthur "can be here in about three weeks."

Martin introduced a resolution calling for an invitation to MacArthur to address Congress.

Wherry prepared a similar one for the Senate.

What the Democrats would do about this move was not immediately clear. Some would have to support it in order for such an invitation to be voted.

Many of them would like to hear MacArthur's version of his controversy with the administration which led President Truman to fire him summarily early this morning as the Far Eastern commander.

But inviting MacArthur to air his views at a joint Senate-House session is a different matter than behind closed committee doors.

Desire Investigation

Martin told the House he believes the entire situation involving MacArthur's removal should be investigated.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.) put in that he would be glad to support a resolution for an investigation if it provided for an inquiry into the state department.

At one point there was a mild demonstration on the House floor for the general.

Rep. Short (R-Mo.) mentioned MacArthur's name among a long list of other military and naval leaders. He was quoting from a five-year-old speech.

That set off a roar of applause among Republican leaders. Three or four Democrats, including Cox, joined in the standing hand-clapping.

Martin got mixed up in telling the House of his telephone talk with MacArthur and referred to "Senator MacArthur." When the Democrats laughed, Martin added: "He might be even higher later."

In times past, the general, now 71, has been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

Martin called a conference of all House Republicans for later in the afternoon to talk over the MacArthur matter.

Before the House met, both Senate and House GOP leaders huddled in Martin's office.

Afterwards, Martin issued a statement in which he said among other things, that "the question of possible impeachments" was discussed.

Martin was asked about use of the plural "impeachments."

General MacArthur Ousted

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was early today dismissed from his command in the Far East by President Harry S. Truman. He had long been top commander of the American-UN activities in Korea, but his strategy failed to meet approval of the president and state department. The picture above is by a sketch artist which shows the determined expression of the general as he served in the area of hostilities.

Young Marine Reports on Korean Front

Tells Lions of Experiences in Combat Service

Corporal Allen L. Hawkins, Jr., United States Marine Corps, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club at noon today. Corporal Hawkins, who only recently returned to the United States from the Korean front, after combat service, spoke on Korea and his knowledge of Japan.

He told of being caught in the Korean death trap at a reservoir from which the Marines fought their way out and were taken from the mainland by the United States navy. He described the country and the fighting conditions of the U. N. forces.

Answered Questions

Corporal Hawkins, for more than a half hour, answered numerous questions regarding various conditions such as the friendship between the U. N. troops, medical treatment given the wounded, both U. N. and enemy, when taken prisoners. He explained weather conditions and handicaps that are being experienced because of the weather. His talk was both interesting and informative.

Corporal Hawkins was introduced by Sergeant Joseph W. Clarke, USMC recruiting officer in Sedalia, who in turn was introduced by Charles Leftwich, the program chairman.

The corporal is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hawkins, 311 East Jackson street. He has been in the Marines for more than two years and is now home on a 20-day furlough. Corporal Hawkins will report to Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he will do instruction work.

Glen to Puerto Rico

Jimmy Glenn, a member of the club, gave a short talk informing the club he is leaving Monday for the Great Lakes naval station from which place he goes to the Puerto Rican U. S. naval station. Glenn is a first class Communications Specialist and on the naval reserve, having served in World War II.

Kenneth Buchholz, president, presided over the meeting and announced a board of directors meeting will be held Thursday night at the Bothwell hotel.

All Domingue was introduced as a new member of the club. John Hannaway of Independence, Mo., was a guest of E. B. Smith.

Gives Women Of Moose Talk

Mrs. Anna Remer, St. Charles, State Recorder of the state organization of the Women of the Moose attended the regular meeting of the Women of the Moose, No. 1242, held Tuesday night in the Moose club, Second and Lamaine. There were 5 in attendance presided over by the Senior Regent, Mrs. E. W. Brown.

Mrs. Remer spoke on organization activities generally and extended an invitation to the Academy of Friendship Rally, to be held in St. Charles May 6.

An announcement was made of a membership drive, starting now, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mrs. Wm. Stearn, to continue until June 9.

The executive board, of the organization, will meet with the chairman of all committees, at 7:00 p. m. each second Tuesday of the month, before the regular meeting.

Initiation and chapter night will be held at the next meeting, April 24.

Tobey States 'Confidence' Was Broken

President Thinks Recording 'Phone Talk 'Outrageous'

WASHINGTON, April 11—(P)—The White House said today that President Truman thinks it is outrageous that Senator Tobey (R-NH) recorded telephone conversation he had with the President.

Shortly after this announcement, Tobey took the Senate floor to say that in one of these conversations Mr. Truman said a "good many" congressmen have accepted fees in connection with RFC loans.

Later, Tobey said, the President told him he did not have evidence to support the accusations.

Congressional sources said yesterday that Tobey had told Senate investigators he had recorded two talks he had had with Mr. Truman. Both were about the reconstruction finance corporation investigation.

Tobey told the Senate he had given his story to the Senate group "in confidence" Monday.

"Somebody broke that trust and confidence," he said. Tobey said "distorted versions have appeared as to what he had said about the recorded conversations."

Statement By Short

Asked about this today, White House press secretary Joseph Short said:

"The President thinks that the recording of telephone conversations is outrageous."

Specifically, Short said Mr. Truman thinks Tobey's recordings of his conversations are outrageous.

"As to the recordings of these conversations, as far as the President is concerned every word can be made public," Short told reporters.

Senator Bennett (R-Utah) said earlier that he may demand a Senate playback of one of the recordings in which the President was reported to have said he "has the goods" on many Congress members in connection with the bringing of influence on RFC loan matters.

Senator Tobey, declining to discuss the incidents with reporters, announced he will address the Senate later in the day and "give full details" if opportunity presents.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) referred reporters to its March 28 announcement when asked today about the story.

That announcement repeated FCC regulations which, in substance, hold that it is illegal to use a phone conversation recorded that does not give a warning that a conversation is being recorded.

The legal device, the announcement said, sounds a distinctive tone, or beep, about every 15 seconds.

Tobey had been quoted as saying he regarded the White House

Permit to Cancel One Bus Schedule

JEFFERSON CITY, April 11—(P)—Missouri Pacific transportation company won state permission to cancel one round trip bus schedule a day between Kansas City and St. Louis.

The state public service commission said the cancellation would be effective until next Aug. 11. There are adequate bus and train connections between Missouri's biggest cities, the PSC said.

They approached the junction leading into Iberia, Yakle said the sergeant told them, "Well, here's where I leave you" and Yakle told the reporter, "I pulled out 'little junior' (referring to the pistol) and told him, 'Here's where we leave you, get out!'"

Over Side Roads

The boys drove off side roads from there, came out on Highway 54 and drove across Baggett Dam, on into Elton and over Highway 52 to Highway 65 and turned north. About 15 miles south of Sedalia they saw a car on the highway in trouble and stopped.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gore, Marshall, and they offered to help them. They pushed the Gore car off on the shoulder and told them they were going through Marshall and would be glad to take them along. Gore said at no time did the boys threaten them but were very congenial.

One Expressed Nervousness

Mr. Gore told Trooper Means he remarked that a highway patrol car was following them and one of the boys replied, "They make me nervous. I've been arrested several times by those fellows."

Trooper Means had been watching Junction of Highway 50 and 65 (west) for some time and decided to go on toward Warsaw. About eight miles south of Sedalia he saw two cars approaching from the south and pulled to the side of the highway to watch them go by. The second car was the Nash sedan. He turned around and began to follow. Means

Permit to Buy Power System

JEFFERSON CITY, April 11—(P)—Missouri Power and Light company was granted permission today to sell its Clinton, Mo., power system to Missouri Public Service company of Warrensburg for $650,000.

The state public service commission said it believed the transfer would be in the public interest. Missouri Public Service operates in the Clinton area and has a power plant there. It has been supplying power to Missouri Power and Light for distribution in Clinton.

Missouri Power and Light of Jefferson City has its major area of operation in north central Missouri. Its Clinton system has been isolated from the rest of its operations.

Fischetti, an Underworld Leader, Dies

Heart Attack is Fatal to One of Gambling Kingpins'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 11—(P)—Charles Fischetti, 50, one of the leaders of America's underworld, died early today at his luxurious Miami Beach home.

A doctor who had been attending Fischetti for four days said that death was caused by a heart attack. He said there was no doubt it resulted from natural causes.

Fischetti and his brother, Rocco, surrendered nine days ago to the sergeant-at-arms of the U. S. Senate after federal agents had sought them from subpoena investigating committee.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) a member of the Kefauver committee, pressed for reopening of the crime probe the day the Fischettis surrendered. Tobey said at the time that "they are kingpins in the gambling world and would contribute a lot of information."

Charles Fischetti was described by the Kefauver committee as one of seven overlords who ruled America's underworld on the basis of strict efficiency and business with an annual $20,000,000,000 take.

Following his return from Washington, Fischetti contracted a virulent infection.

The death certificate listed Fischetti's age as 50. His father is dead but his mother lives in Brooklyn and the funeral will be held there.

Fischetti was a cousin of the late Al Capone and had been associated with the Capone outfit since the late 1920s. He once served as Capone's chauffeur.

Report Slaughter As a Reprisal

NEW YORK, April 11—(P)—The New York Times reported today that South Korean troops slaughtered at least 300 men, women and children in a reprisal strike against a mountain village suspected of aiding Communist guerrillas.

The Seoul government has ordered a secret investigation into the massacre of Shim-Um Mium, a hamlet of 1,400 inhabitants in southwest Korea, the Times said.

Some estimates say as many as 1,000 persons might have died in the attack by troops of the 3rd battalion of the 9th regiment, 11th ROK division, said the dispatch from correspondent George Barrett dated Kochang, Korea.

Eight members of a special South Korean National Assembly committee have gone to Kochang, 12 miles from the village, to investigate the report, the Times said.

The so-called "Shim-Um massacre," said the newspaper, has been a "wide-open secret" with Korean papers ordered by the government not to mention the case.

The Times said the National Assembly members of the investigating committee privately confirmed the basic facts.

Missouri Wheat Crop be Smaller

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 11—(P)—The Missouri wheat crop will be about 100,000 bushels smaller than last year, the state-federal cooperative crop reporting service said yesterday.

The 1951 crop is estimated at 24,416,000 bushels, compared with 24,516,000 bushels harvested last year.

Thunder is of use to man only in determining how far away was the lightning flash that preceded it. Lightning is one mile distant for every five seconds between the time of the flash and the thunder.

Long-life footwear is expected with the use of the new synthetic "cold rubber," which is predicted will double the life of automobile tire treads and already is in use on a number of passenger cars.

Blind Man Scouts Vaudeville Talent for N. Y. Benefit Show

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Along about this time of year, Irving Selis is a very busy man. Phone calls, correspondence and visitors keep him hopping as he prepares the annual extravaganza called "Galaxy of Stars" which is a Madison Square Garden feature each May.

Selis runs the show. Which is rather remarkable, when you know that Selis is an always was totally blind.

Although he can't see them, he scouts every one of the 15 or so acts that make up the big show. From January on he's building the next show. But it's far from a full-time job with him. Selis is president and executive director of The Associated Blind, Inc., the organization that sponsors "Galaxy of Stars."

The first few Galaxies were produced by willing outsiders. But Selis found too many cooks were spoiling the show.

"It was a mess," he says. "There were 10 people running things and nobody knew what was going on. So I decided I could do it myself."

Selis has developed definite ideas about what makes a good show, although he has never, of course, seen one. He thinks it should start off with an acrobatic act or something like it. Then he likes to salt in some singers, dancers, comedians and wind up with another sensational act, if possible.

IRVING SELIS: An audience reaction gives him the tip-off.

"I think every show should have something that will interest everyone," is the way he puts it.

He doesn't have any trouble scouting singers, but the visual acts pose an obvious problem. Agents constantly call him, suggesting acts, because a big New York benefit is a good showcase for their talented charges. "Selis tries to find out where he can 'catch' the act (he has adopted a good deal of show business slang like that in self-defense).

"I'll go to the theater where the act is playing," he says, "and take along somebody who is sighted. They'll describe what is going on. I can tell from the audience reaction — the chuckles and the gasps and so on — if it's good or not."

He's even done some of his scouting by television, if there is someone with him to put the action into words.

After he decides what he wants, Selis conducts all the financial negotiations himself. If he's unhappy doing business on the phone, he'll run out of the office and head for the agent's office in person. He has charge of the ticket sales — "my biggest headache" — and the millions of other details that go into a successful production.

Selis, a native New Yorker, was born blind. Now in his 40s, he's a neatly-dressed man who seems to be looking straight at you while talking. He has no trouble running his office nor operating the normal complement of office devices it contains.

He says he was the victim of one of the fallacies about blind people. That's the one that insists a blind person automatically is a good musician.

TO PROBE MORALS — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.), above, heads a Senate sub-committee that will look into "federal morals and ethics." Hearings will begin about the first of May in the investigation which, the senator hopes, will put an end to "government at cocktail bars," and replace "diseased tissue" uncovered by Senate RFC and crime probes with "healthy, growing tissue."

"They sat me down at a piano when I was a kid," he says with a laugh. "I played for 15 years. Now I can maybe play chopsticks — Harry Truman and me."

Selis "messed around" in the dress business with his father, then got himself a newsstand. But he was always interested in the problems of the blind, and was in on the formation of The Associated Blind — "an organization of, by and for the blind."

The proceeds from the "Galaxy of Stars" aid the organization's work. It has social service workers, gives medical assistance and advice, and financial assistance, has recreational programs, legislative programs and so on.

"We believe," says Selis, "that the person who'll best understand the problems of a blind person is another blind person."

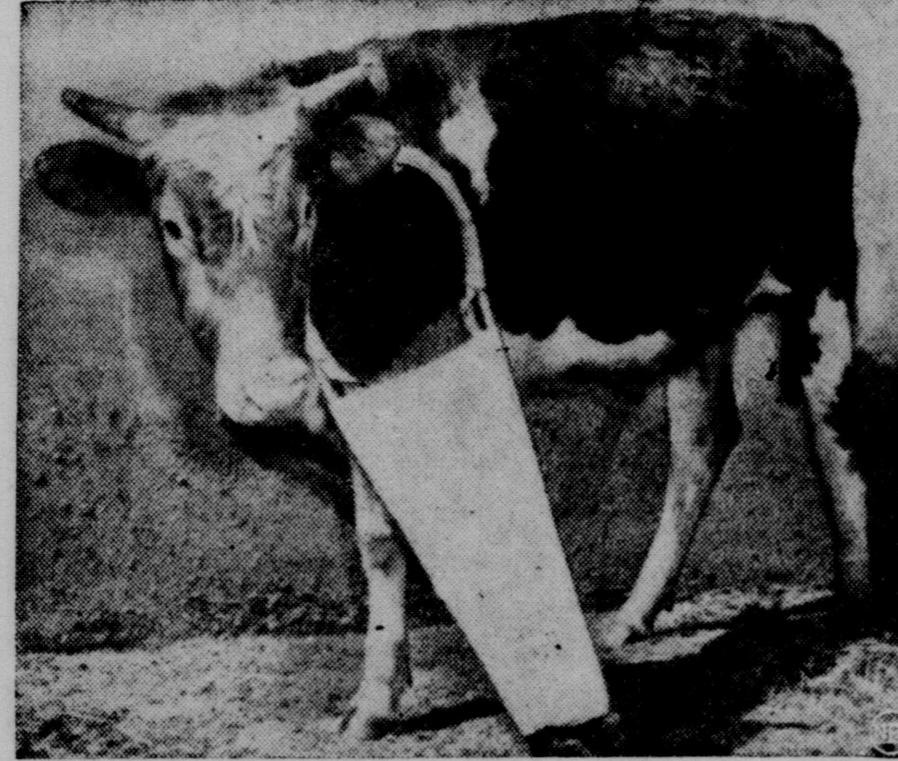

The cornerstone of the Washington Monument was laid on July 4, 1848. The capstone was laid in place Dec. 6, 1884.

New techniques developed at the university clinic offer new hope for saving valuable animals which suffer fractures.

Japanese Schools Feel Pinch
TOKYO — (AP) — Japan's universities are feeling the pinch in papa's pocketbook. State universities report from 20 to 50 per cent of their students are behind in tuition. Private schools are having the same trouble. Family budget problems with the high cost of living are blamed.

The government says the tuition arrears at Tokyo university — largest in the country — is almost $35,000. University officials are considering drastic measures, including wholesale dismissal of students, unless the situation improves.

The problem has been aggravated by a "tuition boycott" campaign launched by several student bodies — including the left-wing National Federation of Student Government Association. The students oppose anticipated hikes in tuition fees.

"We believe," says Selis, "that the person who'll best understand the problems of a blind person is another blind person."

Truman Tells Reporters to Read History

By Ed Creagh
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON, April 10—(AP)—You've heard a lot about Truman, the President, Truman, the letter-writer, Truman, the plain man from the Missouri farm.

Now meet Harry Truman the historian.

More and more, the man in the White House is looking into the past for a key to understanding the present—and perhaps as a guide to the future.

"Read more history," he often tells people who worry out loud at the state of the nation—or of the universe.

Mr. Truman has been demonstrating the result of his own delving into the history books.

"There isn't any difference," he told a group of magazine editors, "between Hitler and Mussolini, Tarquin in ancient Rome, the tyrants in Sparta, Charles the First of England, Louis the 14th—and Stalin."

Out in Kansas City during the winter Mr. Truman made a similar excursion into the past.

"Our growth and our laws," he told a luncheon meeting of newspapermen, "are founded on those originating with Hammurabi in the Mesopotamian valley, promulgated by Moses and elaborated on by Jesus Christ."

"Now the people we are in controversy with do not believe in any of those things. They are the inheritors of the program of Genghis Khan and Tamerlane, who were the greatest murderers in the history of the world."

Then, soberly, he told the note-taking reporters:

"I wish you would read more history."

The reporters did. They ran for reference books as soon as the luncheon broke up in order to explain in their stories that Genghis Khan (1162-1227) was a that is safe for you and myself likes American history in particular, is fascinated by anything concerning Andrew Jackson, loves to talk about the pioneer days in Missouri.

But his interest seems to have broadened and deepened with the developing world crisis and to have given him renewed confidence that the United States, in the long run, will survive the world crisis.

In a speech to an assemblage of fellow Masons he said: "I hope you will spend some time reading of certain crisis which we have faced."

"Washington had a terrific one in 1796. He met it."

"Old (Andrew) Jackson had one of the best and he met it."

"In the 1860's we had another crisis, and Abraham Lincoln met it. Woodrow Wilson faced the same situation."

"And we will meet this situation just as those were met. And when we get through we will have a peaceful world and a world

California Has Hot Election

The liveliest election in years took place in California, Mo., Tuesday, April 3 when two aldermen, one from the second and one from the third ward were elected by the "write-in" method. Strong opposition was made to some of the old board of aldermen on not issuing the usual patronage dividend of the municipal light plant at the beginning of the year. Opposition was reported to use these funds to pay on a proposed bond issue for sewer improvements.

Officials elected were R. H. Laetham, mayor; H. S. Stephenson, alderman from the first ward; H. J. Hood, alderman from the second ward; C. W. Gilmore, alderman from the third ward; Richard Chambers, marshal and Mrs. H. W. Crum, collector.

The $45,000 school bond issue was defeated. The vote was 579 yes, to 319 no. A shift of 20 votes would have made the necessary two-thirds majority. The school board has announced a special election to be held April 20 for re-submitting the issue to the voters.

GOOD NEWS everywhere you look in the NEW PLYMOUTH

NEW "SAFETY-FLOW RIDE"—stability and safety never possible before! Even when you unexpectedly encounter violent bumps, dips, waves, or holes in the road, you enjoy a smooth and steady motion. You have complete control of the car at all times. "Safety-Flow Ride" comes from new Oriflow shock absorbers working with other engineering features.

NEW ELECTRIC WINDSHIELD WIPERS, unlike vacuum wipers, clean at a fast, constant speed, even when the engine is under a heavy load. They're standard equipment and with them you're not required to buy a vacuum booster. You enjoy better vision all around, with narrower front corner posts and a 15% larger rear window.

NEW BUMPERS, GRILLE, HOOD. The low-sweeping new hood permits a better view of the road close to the car. Individual grille units are replaceable, so you don't need a whole new grille if only one part is damaged. Also, all four fenders are bolted on; they cost less to repair or replace than fenders which are parts of the body.

NEW ENGINE FEATURES. A new radiator pressure cap increases cooling capacity when you need it most and also helps keep the water or anti-freeze from boiling away. A new by-pass cooling system, standard on all models, gives fast warm-up and yet circulates the coolant so that the engine is fully protected under all starting and driving conditions.

Atom City, U. S. A. Sets Defense Pace

STREET SCENE IN ATOM CITY: Los Alamos residents walk through the shopping area for town's 12,000 residents. Modern building in background is the U. S. Post Office.

ATOMIC AGE HOUSING: Los Alamos officials have begun to solve the town's tough housing problem with apartments like these. Rents for houses and apartments range from $45 to $135.

GATEWAY TO LOS ALAMOS: NEA reporter Douglas Larsen (right) and photographer Stanley Tretick show their passes to Lt. Charles Buckley at the carefully-guarded Atom City entrance.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LOS ALAMOS, N. M.—(NEA)—Every U. S. citizen whose faith might be lagging in America's ability to defend itself against Communist aggression ought to spend a day or so at this atomic Shangri-la.

It isn't anything the people here will come right out and tell you, or show you. One of the big things that builds up your confidence is the completely rigid, yet intelligent security they've now imposed.

It's in the mood of the employees and atmosphere of the community. Somehow the place breathes calm confidence in the quality of the mysterious work going on in the strange-shaped labs and plants, which you can see across the heavy fences separating the "tech area" from the community life of Los Alamos.

Nowhere here do you find the panic or fear talk so characteristic of Washington, D. C., for instance. Nor do you find the ignorance or lack of interest in what's going on in the rest of the world that you find in so many U. S. communities. They know what's going on in the world here. And they aren't frightened by that knowledge.

Nowhere else, in a nation-wide tour of military and defense plant installations, did this reporter find the diligence, interest in job and plain hard work that exist here. A major section of the tech body puts in dozens of hours of overtime a month.

At least in the offices and shops they do let you see you don't find the "coffee break," so universal at the military bases and war plants around the country, which in effect has the defense effort on a 35-hour week.

You don't see clock-watching. You don't see the employees with their hats and coats on waiting to charge off to the nearest bar at the instant of quitting time.

A typical Los Alamos housewife says:

"I expect my husband when I see him each night. He gets interested in something he's doing and doesn't know when to quit."

The feeling probably boils down to this:

Atomic weapons are being produced here. All the fantastic future atomic weapons in the blueprint or development stage are processed here. You can assume that every scrap of intelligence on Russian atomic developments is known to the experts here. Yet nobody seems to be frightened about the present or future. At least they're less scared than the citizens lots of other places around the country.

The suggestion that many U. S. citizens should pay a visit to Los Alamos is strictly hypothetical.

They've only very recently begun to see daylight on the problem of housing employees. And that has helped lick one of the big bugs in the whole program—turnover due to poor living conditions. Approximately 12,000 persons live in Los Alamos. Another 3000 commute from nearby communities.

Nearly every phase of life in this atom city is unique. The town's best-seller is the "High Altitude Cook Book." Los Alamos sits on a remote, rough plateau 7600 feet above sea-level. Everyone in New Mexico refers to it as "The Hill." All children over seven must carry identification cards. If you don't mow your own lawn the city will come around and do it for you and charge you two bucks. That's because of the danger of erosion.

For $50 a year any resident can play golf on one of the sportiest and most scenic courses in the country. An hour's hike from your house there's excellent skiing, big-game hunting, mountain-stream fishing and ice skating. Is Uncle Sam making life too fat for these atom workers? Not when you discover that the average salary is in the neighborhood of $3500 a year.

Some of the city's basic statistics are also unique. More than 85 per cent of the population are under 40. One-third of the 12,000 persons are children of school age. The citizens spend less of their income on clothing than in any city in the country. Life is informal. There hasn't been a traffic fatality in the city for five years. Nobody in Los Alamos can own his own home; Uncle Sam is the exclusive landlord. Apartments and houses rent from $45 to $135. Furnished dormitory rooms range from $19 to $35. For some reason a house with a fireplace is the premium place in which to live.

To the eye, Los Alamos is a treat. Gorgeous mountain scenery backgrounds the beautifully laid-out residential sections with their cozy modern houses. The approach, a winding mountain road with magnificent vistas, sets the mood for your sudden entrance into the amazing city. For the visitor there's a beautiful mountain lodge in the center of the city that looks like something out of Hollywood set.

Also for the visitor is the distinct impression that here, at least, the taxpayer is getting his money's worth and Uncle Sam seems to know what he's doing.

Jail Term and Fine
In Income Tax Evasion
ST. LOUIS, April 11—(AP)—Thomas F. Callahan, former operator of an electric fan manufacturing company, must serve 90 days in jail and pay a $5,000 fine for evasion of federal income taxes.

He was sentenced by Federal Judge Roy W. Harper on his plea of guilty Monday to charges of evading payment of $9,433 in taxes in 1944. Callahan was indicted by a federal grand jury Jan. 31.

The new system was set up Tuesday to give the Army its fair share of bright young recruits.

It involves an equalizing of the mental standards of the various armed forces. There had been complaints that the Navy, Marines Corps and Air Force were getting more than their share of the best talent.

The program announced by Defense Secretary Marshall provides that each of the fighting services can enlist by volunteering or through the draft only specified quotas of men in four mental groups established by a single standard of qualification tests.

The new plan will require the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force to lower their mental standards for evasion of federal income taxes.

Cabinet Seethes Over MacArthur Statements

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—At two cabinet meetings in the past three weeks, General MacArthur's unauthorized policy statements have come in for important, even heated discussion.

Most heated debate was not last week but immediately after MacArthur's pre-Easter statement of March 24, in which he proposed a peace meeting with Chinese military commanders.

At this cabinet meeting the President remarked that he was sorry he hadn't fired MacArthur last summer—following his out-of-line statement to the veterans of foreign wars. What aroused the President's heat just before Easter was that MacArthur's peace statement was one which Truman himself was planning to make.

What happened was that the joint chiefs of staff had cabled MacArthur, for his perusal and personal reaction, a copy of an Easter appeal for peace which the State department had already discussed with the British and French and which Truman planned to issue publicly.

But, without a word to Washington, MacArthur made the statement himself. Part of his text was almost verbatim with that sent him by the joint chiefs, though his threat to bomb Chinese bases was entirely his own.

MacArthur's Political Record

Naturally Washington boiled.

Next day, Secretary of Defense Marshall sent MacArthur a personal cable ordering him to clear all future policy statements with him. That cable was dated March 25, and MacArthur's letter to Ex-Speaker Joe Martin was dated March 20, so technically at least MacArthur is in the clear.

In the eyes of the Defense department, however, he is not. For on December 5, 1950, confidential orders were sent to all military commanders to clear all policy statements with the Defense department in Washington. Furthermore, MacArthur has had a history of jumping the traces, some of which is well-known, some not, but all of which has made relations between him and his commander-in-chief more strained than at any time in recent American history. Here is the record:

Jump No. 1—In December, 1948, MacArthur let off steam to a group of Republican senators visiting him in Tokyo about sending U.S. arms and troops to Formosa. This freed off the running debate between the administration and the China bloc in Congress over Chinese intervention which continued for months.

Jump No. 2—In the spring of 1950, MacArthur took an unauthorized trip to Formosa, got a lot of publicity kissing Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's hand, and openly discussed the idea of building up Formosa as a base. This was in complete contradiction of the government's policy, and he obviously knew it.

Jump No. 3—After we got into the Korean war, MacArthur sent his famous letter to the veterans of foreign wars regarding the use of Formosa as a base. He was reprimanded by Truman.

Wake Island—it was around this time that Averell Harriman, special representative of the President, went to Tokyo to soothe the general's fur. At this time Harriman got MacArthur's solemn promise to make no more policy statements without clearing them with Washington.

Truman Is Charmed

Following this, Truman made his special pilgrimage to confer with MacArthur on Wake Island. When he first arrived he was a little non-plussed by the way the general strolled nonchalantly down to the runway a little late—to meet him; and by the fact that MacArthur failed to salute his commander-in-chief. He was also disappointed that MacArthur's accompanying party consisted chiefly of his personal doctor, his valet and Ambassador Muccio, whereas Truman had

INITIALS INSIDE THE COAT, AND I DIDN'T.

I took the homicide squad about 20 minutes to get there after I called and they came en masse. Inspector Merica was in charge, though it is usually discharged in court. But a candid camera in court exposes the trick and now Star faces disbarment. Star now must prove Rose innocent to save himself.

"Yes, he knows. There's something else he's got to know. Rose Bidault's been murdered. Slabbed. Tell him if he comes in."

"Someone else's looking for him, too. Larry Stone. He phoned half an hour ago."

"Thanks." I hung up. I wondered why Stone would be phoning Star. One way to get the answer to that one would be to go around and ask him. Of course Stone might not consider himself to be speaking terms with me, but at times I have a persuasive personality. So I drove over to the Brentwood Arms.

The man who came out of Brentwood Arms was J. J. McNamara. He pushed his fat stomach under the wheel of his car and drove off without noticing me. I drove right off after him. Of course I had really little reason to think that McNamara had been to see Larry Stone. Only a hunch.

I followed him for 11 blocks, and then parked about a block behind him. I couldn't see the name on the door and windows of the place he entered, but I marked it well by the street lamp in front. Then I sauntered casually by the place as if window-shopping. I wasn't really in the market for what was in the window. The sign on the door said: "PRATER HERMETICALLY SEALED BURIAL VAULT CO.", and in the window were three of the firm's samples.

"All right," said Merica, when I had finished. "You can drop in at headquarters and sign a statement. So far it sounds pretty good. Except for one thing. You admit you got in here with a skeleton key and that Rose Bidault didn't know you were coming back. That makes you guilty of breaking and entering."

"Not at all, Inspector. I was only checking back to see if Rose was getting along all right. Like I said, we did quite a bit of celebrating. You know what a strain she had been under."

Merica nodded. "I know. I worked on the Bidault case. I can understand what a relief it was for her to beat the rap. But you still walked in here without her consent."

"I DROVE back downtown to the office. When I walked in, Kitty Coyle eyed me with fearsome awe. "You didn't tell me! You didn't tell me you had killed that man!" "No, I didn't. Star in?"

Kitty's pallor showed through her make-up as she got Star on the inter-office unit. She thought I wasn't bothered. The truth was that knocking down the unknown prowler at the Bidault place had disquieted me no little.

Star told me to come in. He looked weary. He was sitting behind his desk, the afternoon paper in front of him. "Bad, huh?"

Star shook his head. "Very good photography. Marvelous shots for that light. I must say that I entirely overlooked the possibility that Nick Ricardo could take such pictures."

"It does seem odd that he'd take shots at that particular time. The stuff shown in his pictures couldn't have been seen by the naked eye. You worked it so fast that neither the judge nor Andy Tanner saw you."

"What are you getting at, Jim?"

"Ricardo was tipped off."

Star eyed me thoughtfully. "I must say that the possibility had already occurred to me. But why should Sonya work all night to teach me the stunt, send me off wishing me luck and then run to phone a reporter?"

"The ham in her, boss. Once she rates publicity in newspapers all over the country and page photographs in the picture magazines, she can write her own ticket. She'll be the biggest lady magician in captivity."

"I STUCK around till the coroner got there, then asked permission to leave which was granted. Sergeant Cost was still giving me the fish-eye, and he couldn't hold back a final dig as I started for the door.

"In case you have to have a lawyer, Marshall, I recommend J. J. McNamara. I hear your boss won't be in the law business after today."

I said nothing. It really hurt. I wondered what Star would say when he found out about Rose Bidault's murder. There was a fat chance to prove her innocent of Barney's death now—even if she had been, which I didn't think possible.

I wondered where I could find Star. He would surely be back in town by this time. I drove to the nearest drug store and phoned the office. Kitty Coyle answered.

"Jim! Where in the world have you been? Don't you know what's happened?"

"I've seen the papers. And I've seen Star. Have you?"

"No. I've been nearly crazy. I didn't hear about it till 1 o'clock when I came back to the office, and when I phoned Star's cottage there was no answer. I thought about driving out but I was afraid to leave my office. He knows?"

should be said that someone with an itch must not jump to the conclusion that it is due to scabies. There are many other reasons for itching and an accurate diagnosis is essential. Second, there are several good treatments for scabies, but most of them may irritate the skin as well as kill the insect so it is not wise to try them without direction.

But there are several preparations which contain sulfur, D.D.T., rotenone, pyrethrum, benzenezoate or other chemicals which the insects causing scabies definitely don't like. By means of one or more of these preparations scabies can almost always be cured—and by the use of hygienic methods it can be prevented from spreading.

Snackbar In the Snow

MITTENWALD, Germany—(AP)—Have a hot dog and a couple of drinks served on an ice buffet in Germany's loftiest snack bar built of snow some 6,700 feet high in the Bavarian Alps. An enterprising bar keeper of Mittenwald had a 30-foot tunnel dug through a wall of snow and ice.

Here, in a "snow room" he set up a big buffet and ice tables. On his biggest day, more than 3,000 skiers dropped in.

The sun eventually will close the restaurant for the season by melting the buffet and all the other snow furniture.

Last And Last

North Carolina, last state to ratify the Constitution of the United States, was the last state to sever connections with the Union and enter the Confederacy.

Need Diagnosis

Now to treatment. First it from person to person makes prevention particularly important. Avoidance of overcrowding is one method; frequent bathing is also helpful. Special care has to be exercised in regard to clothing, bedding, towels and the like in any place where scabies breaks out.

THE DOCTOR SAYS—

Use Hygienic Methods to Keep 'Seven Year Itch' Localized

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

It comes as something of a surprise to learn how many people are afflicted with the seven year itch. Mrs. R. writes, for example: "I think that three in my family have what is known at the seven year itch. What is the cause of this and what can be used to cure it?" A correspondent who signs "Interested Reader" asks why this is called the seven year itch and whether sunlight and fresh air will help.

The correct name for this condition is scabies—named after the tiny insect which causes it, sarcoptes. I do not know how the name "seven year itch" came to be used, but it is probably because the condition goes on for so long if it isn't treated.

Anyway this little insect burrows into the skin and causes terrific irritation and itching. Furthermore the itch brings violent scratching, and this combined with unwise self-treatment produces further skin irritation.

Since an insect causes scabies, it means that the condition is spread from one person to another. Thus it is not surprising that it flourishes best when people are crowded together in barracks, dormitories, or lodging houses. It is also more common in the winter, quite likely because people don't take as many baths in cooler weather.

OBITUARIESJames Clark Stephens

James Clark Stephens, 75, of Houstonia, died today at 6:30 a.m. at the Bothwell hospital. He had been ill for a month.

Mr. Stephens was born March 5, 1876, in Elton, Rookingham county, Va., the son of the late Charles B. and Lillie Bear Stephens. He came to Houstonia with his family at the age of seven. Mr. Stephens was a member of the Houstonia Methodist church.

In 1897 he was married to Mary Vaughan in LaMonte. She preceded him in death in 1917.

Surviving him are: three daughters, Miss Mary Stephens of the home, Mrs. Floyd Leftwich of Hughesville and Mrs. J. C. Duke, of St. Louis; two sisters, Mrs. J. I. Stone of Houstonia, Mrs. E. R. Davis of Kansas City; two brothers, Charles P. Stephens of Mendon and T. L. Stephens of East St. Louis, Ill., and four grandchildren.

The body is at the Westbrook funeral home in Houstonia. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Elizabeth Purchase

Mrs. Elizabeth Purchase, 90, a former resident of Green Ridge, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ollie Calvert in Columbia at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Purchase had been making her home with her daughter for two years.

She was born at Devonshire, England, June 9, 1860 and came to America when a young girl. July 26, 1882 she was married to W. H. Purchase. They made their home in and near Green Ridge. Mr. Purchase died March 19, 1945.

Mrs. Purchase was a member of the Prairie View Methodist church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Oliver Calvert, Columbia; and four sons, John Purchase and Clarence Purchase, Green Ridge; George Purchase, Zillah, Wash.; and William Purchase, Pendleton, Ore.

Twenty-five grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Purchase was preceded in death by two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Farley and Mrs. Ethel Menter.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending arrival of relatives from a distance.

The body was brought to Sedalia this afternoon and is at the Ewing funeral home.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian church in Green Ridge with Rev. J. G. W. Kirschner pastor officiating.

Interment will be in the Green Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Robert H. Holman

Mrs. Fannie E. Stuart Holman, 74, route 5, wife of Henry Holman, died at her home at 1:00 p.m. today.

Mrs. Holman was born July 31, 1876 near Syracuse the daughter of the late Alexander and Christiansen Stuart. She was married to Mr. Holman in Sedalia December 20, 1908 and they have resided on their farm home since.

She was a member of the Gildele Christian church for 35 years.

Surviving are the husband; one son, Robert H. Holman, route 5; one brother Roy Stuart and two grandchildren Donna and Dennis Holman.

The body is at the Gillespie funeral home. Burial will be in the Crown Hill cemetery. Other funeral arrangements will be announced at the action.

Hold Stunng Blow

And in Formosa, Chiang Kai-Shek's stronghold, officials saw the action as a stunning blow.

MacArthur was their leading advocate of U. S. aid for striking back against Red China.

At the United Nations headquarters, South Korean spokesman made no public comment but left no doubt in private conversation that they were unhappy.

Most of the official reaction at the U. N. was that this was a United States matter, since the leadership of the unified command in Korea had been left to Washington. Nonetheless, some of the U. N. delegations could not disguise their satisfaction at the action taken.

Martin let it stand at that.

The plain implication, however, was that they felt an impeachment move should be made against President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and possibly others in the Democratic administration.

Impeachment is, in effect, trial for removal from office. The mechanics are these: The House must adopt a resolution of impeachment. The Senate then sits as a court to try the impeachment charges.

Failed to Get Reces

When the House itself convened at 11 a.m. (EST), Martin asked for a two-hour recess so Republican members could hold a caucus about MacArthur. Martin failed to get it over Democratic opposition.

Most of the Capitol Hill split over the MacArthur removal was along party lines. For the most part, the Democrats were quick to line up in support of Mr. Truman's action.

Ensign Berkey lost his life on March 28 when the large Grumman anti-submarine plane he was piloting on a training flight crashed on an uninhabited island off the southern coast of California. The Navy and Coast Guard conducted a wide-spread search by sea and air before the missing plane was located.

Ensign Berkey's wife is the former Miss Patricia Pharris of 1005 South Missouri. His sister Frances Berkey of Los Angeles, Calif., will arrive this weekend at the Smithton Methodist church. The Rev. E. F. Dillon officiated.

Burial was in the Smithton cemetery. The body was at the Neimeyer funeral home.

Gen. MacArthur Fired From Tokyo Command Of Far East Troops of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, said President Truman made a tragic error in firing MacArthur.

"The decision indicates a determination to continue the wavering, planless course in the Far East and points to either a stalemate in Korea or to ignominious concessions to the Chinese Communists," Taft said. Senator Knowland, California Republican, saw the ouster as the forerunner to a Far Eastern Munich. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, contended the majority of Americans back MacArthur.

There were expressions of relief in Britain, whose officials had voiced concern to Washington over MacArthur's statement. Several British leaders had said MacArthur overstepped himself, as a military commander, in issuing statements they regarded as political.

First available editorial reaction in London was that President Truman had shown courage in dismissing a man "who had become a menace to Allied unity."

That was the viewpoint of the London Star (Liberal).

The negotiations came as a result of the union's written request of March 30 for improvement in wages and working conditions. Representation questions are also on the agenda. The company has publicly stated that it is in agreement "in principle" with the union's demand for higher wages, but has said that any increases granted must be reflected in higher rates.

Anger Over MacArthur Dismissal

The plural was correct, Martin replied.

Asked whether the subject of impeachments applied to anyone in particular, Martin said it applied to anyone "who has transgressed."

Martin let it stand at that.

The plain implication, however, was that they felt an impeachment move should be made against President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and possibly others in the Democratic administration.

Impeachment is, in effect, trial for removal from office. The mechanics are these: The House must adopt a resolution of impeachment. The Senate then sits as a court to try the impeachment charges.

Martin let it stand at that.

Ridgway's action was the first blow to the union's demands for more independence of England and that those who took the stone also felt it had originally been stolen from Scotland by an English king.

Nationalist spokesmen in Scotland said they wanted to draw attention to their demands for more independence of England and that the people who left the stone were left with the stone.

The sandstone slab, known as the "Stone of Destiny" in Scotland had been reliably reported taken from Westminster Abbey by the Scottish Nationalists.

Nationalist spokesmen in Scotland said they wanted to draw attention to their demands for more independence of England and that the people who took the stone were left with the stone.

Scotland Yard hinted only a week ago that it had solved the mystery of who took the stone. Newspapers said that the persons had been identified.

The theft on Christmas morning rocked the entire country. It caused a flareup of old animosities between Scotland and England.

The stone, on which the Kings of England traditionally have been crowned to signify the union of England and Scotland, was dragged from its position under the coronation chair in the early hours of Christmas morning.

According to legend, the stone groans when a rightful sovereign sits on it, but remains silent before a conqueror.

It originally was brought to London in 1296 after Edward I defeated the Scots under John Balliol at Dunbar.

Bothell spotted and to send cars out to help, that he would follow the car to the junction.

Bothell's car was dispatched to the junction and as they saw the red light on the patrol car go on, they rushed to where the Nash was stopping to give any assistance Trooper Means might need.

Mr. and Mrs. Gore got out of the car with their hands in the air and the boys followed. "It was an experience," the Gores told Trooper Means when they were stopped.

Yakle said he belonged to Co. A 91st Heavy Tank CCB, Sixth Armored division, and Vincent said he was a member of Co. B 76th Medical Battalion CCA, Sixth Armored division. Yakle has been in service since July 5, 1950 and Vincent since October 1, 1950.

They were lodged in the city jail over night.

Prosecuting Attorney Michael Bogutski, this afternoon, said he was releasing the two boys to either the military authorities or Miller county. He had talked with the prosecuting attorney of Miller county who said that if he did not file on them there he would agree to releasing them to the military. Mr. Bogutski said he was not filing any charges in this county.

That turned the tide.

Then, in late January, Ridgway launched his first drive, a limited offensive aimed to kill Reds, not ground.

His tactics paid off.

Under Ridgway's command, Allied troops proved to themselves they could win. Now they are a confident, experienced and fighting army.

When Ridgway arrived in Korea, there was speculation he had been chosen by Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, to operate with more independence of General MacArthur than had General Walker.

But informed officers in Tokyo said MacArthur had turned down another general and asked for Ridgway.

Ridgway has been careful to express his cordial relations with MacArthur.

A 1917 West Point classmate of Gen. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, Ridgway was Collins' deputy chief of administration before he came to Korea.

Ridgway's classmates at the Point knew him as a man of energy. The year-book called him "the busiest man in the place."

COFFEE SALES ARE REALLY PERKING—Nothing like this happened when a Chicago department store first sold coffee at 19 cents a pound 68 years ago—but times have changed. When the Chicago chain advertised 1883 prices on coffee to help celebrate its anniversary, this stampede resulted. Store officials had to mount the counters and appeal to eager buyers to "take it easy."

NOW CONQUER CONSTIPATION FOREVER

—When normal regularity is restored and maintained by the revolutionary medical discovery, Melcalose!

Now at last comes the astounding medical discovery doctors and constipation sufferers have vainly sought for years. A way to conquer constipation forever... establish regularity... maintain normal function—without the violent action of harsh drugs, chemicals or oils; without irritating, bloating effects often caused by messy seeds or "bulk" preparations.

Even chronic constipation sufferers of 20 to 30 years standing were restored to normal regularity in as little as 7 to 14 days with Melcalose.

Supplies What Nature Needs
Easy-to-take Melcalose Tablets dissolve into a mild, non-purging gel which mixes completely with contents of colon to produce light, soft, smooth, comfortable bowel movements that slip easily, rhythmically past the bowel wall.

When this rhythmic activity is restored and maintained, constipation ends forever. Very important, Melcalose Tablets are harmless to take, even over long periods of time. Get Melcalose Tablets from your druggist today.

Shipping Fever in Cattle or Swine Plague in Hogs

As I explained last week the germ that causes this disease may be found in the air passages of normal, healthy cattle, and due to some exposure that lowers resistance of the animal the germ grows rapidly and develops the strength to produce a deadly disease.

Many of the symptoms are similar in both cattle and hogs. After the exposure the animal may seem to have escaped without becoming sick for two or three days only to get sick on the following day. Any complications may set in rapidly causing pneumonia or a diarrhea.

Animals that contract the disease should be isolated from the rest and treatment started at once. The balance of the herd may be vaccinated with Hemorrhagic Septicemia Bacterin.

It seems to me that one of the problems at this time of the year is for the farmer to differentiate between this disease and infectious scours in calves, and I think it should be plainly stated that the so-called intestinal sulfas should not be relied upon for treatment of Hemorrhagic Septicemia.

Vaccination with Hemorrhagic Septicemia Bacterin at least 10 days to two weeks before shipping or other exposures that are out of the ordinary is recommended as a preventive measure. The Anti-Serum should be used in treatment or as a temporary immunizing agent.

We still have some of those 32-page booklets, "Keeping Livestock Healthy." They are free—just ask for one.

Rockne Picked As Top Coach Of All-Time

By WILL GRIMSBY
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 11.—(P)—Knut Rockne, the colorful, pug-nosed strategist who made Notre Dame a household word in football, was chosen coach today for the All-Time All-American football team.

The little Norwegian master of locked-room inspiration, won out over two famous pioneers of the sport, Glenn S. (Pop) Warner and Alonzo Stagg in the Associated Press nationwide poll of sports editors and broadcasters.

The poll, representing more than 100 votes but including the opinions of thousands of fans who participated in individual newspaper ballots, was conducted to pick nominees for the national football Hall of Fame.

The names of these three coaches and the players of three all-time All-American teams, already chosen, will be submitted to the Hall of Fame honors court for possible permanent places in the $5,000,000 shrine planned at Rutgers in 1950.

The shrine, with the endorsement of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, is to be established at this site where the first intercollegiate game was played between Princeton and Rutgers in 1869.

Rockne's career was cut down in its prime by an airplane accident that took the coach's life March 31, 1931, in a Kansas wheat field, but he left behind a brilliant record of achievement.

His teams scored 105 victories over a 13-year span against 12 defeats and five ties.

He was such an overwhelming favorite among participants in the poll that he received more than four times as many votes as his closest challenger, Warner, and more than five times as many as the third-place Stagg.

Here's how the "Big Three" coaches finished:

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame ... 526
Pop Warner, Stanford-Carlisle 127
Alonzo Stagg, Chicago 89

Coaches who followed included Bob Neyland of Tennessee, Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, Fielding Yost of Michigan, Paul Brown of Ohio State, Howard Jones of Southern California, Clark Shaughnessy of Chicago and Bob Zuppke of Illinois.

They couldn't have called on a man better qualified—heh-heh!

I'm an old cricket enthusiast, you know, and I've been identified with the game of baseball since it was called one-old-cat.

Who is there who remembers when the rule was made that a game was to be decided by nine innings of play instead of on the basis of the first team to score 21 runs?

(Editor's Note: He must be spoofing—that rule was made in 1857.)

Indeed, I recall vividly when Eddie Cuthbert of the old Philadelphia Keystones became the first man to steal a base, in a game against the Brooklyn Atlantics. Oddly enough, it was third base!

(Ed. Note: Hoople must be older than we thought. That happened in 1865.)

Under CUT—8h4.

Not Cricket — Major Hoople has been identified with baseball since it was called one-old-cat. (NEA)

Some may be curious as to why they have chosen Cleveland and New York to win. In the case of Cleveland, most of the credit will go to Al Lopez.

The lad from Tampa happens to be one of the best tacticians and handlers of men in the business.

With the wealth of material he has, he will roll in by five lengths.

In the case of the Giants, the club started to come to life in the waning days of 1950.

This trend will continue with many startling improvements particularly as to pitching.

See you at the World Series!

Hand Picks Phils To Repeat In Tight N. L. Pennant Race

By Jack Hand

NEW YORK, April 11—(P)—The National League race looks like a three-team squabble with the well-balanced fighting Phillies picked to beat out Brooklyn and the New York Giants.

Sure you remember last September, How the Whiz Kids wobbled and the awakened Dodgers almost nipped them at the wire.

How Leo Durocher's Giants, with Sal Maglie and Jim Hearn flinging shutouts, surged to third place in a galloping finish. How the Phils lost four straight to the Yanks in the World Series.

There has been a tendency to write off the Phils as "one time wonders". To say Jim Konstanty never can approach his 74 superb relief jobs of last season. To underrated the champs. That's risky business.

Loss of Curt Simmons, the 17-game winner now in the army, was a major blow. But manager Eddie Sawyer has the men who could pick up those wins in Russ Meyer, Ken Johnson and Ken Heintzman.

The Phils should be a better club with more experience for Whiz Kids like Willie Jones, Robin Roberts, Bubba Church, Bob Miller, Mike Goliat, Granny Hammer and Richie Ashburn. They have a little more infidelity insurance. Still the regulars must avoid serious injury if they're to win again.

Sawyer and spirit, synonymous with the Phils, are an important factor. Perhaps the big reason.

There can be no complacency on a club that just staggered home and lost the series in four straight. But the fire that drove them to their first pennant since '15 could be banked. Count on Sawyer to maintain the Phils' bovine zip.

Still Have Key Players

Del Ennis, Andy Seminick, Dick Sisler, Jones and Hammer are the key hitters. Roberts, a sure fire 20-game winner, and Konstanty are the backbone of the pitching staff. Hammer, fast becoming the new Mr. Shortstop, and Ballhawk Ashburn in center, are the defensive stars.

Here's the way the National League looks from here:

1. Philadelphia.
2. Brooklyn.
3. New York.
4. Boston.
5. St. Louis.
6. Cincinnati.
7. Pittsburgh.
8. Chicago.

The Dodgers lead the league in hitting, home runs, total bases and stolen bases, but their pitching is shoddy after you get past Preacher Roe and Don Newcome. If the Brooks should come up with Howie Poller, the Cards' holdout pitcher, they could win easily.

The Giants bunt with optimism. The players don't just hope to win, they expect to. The Al Dark-Eddie Stanky second base combination looks better than ever and Bobby Thomson, a flop in '50, is hitting the ball with his old authority.

Behind Larry Jansen, Sheldon Jones, Maglie and Hearn the Giants have a tight defense. The chance to grab those 2-1 and 3-2 games could mean a pennant.

Behind the front three, Boston and St. Louis look like the only clubs capable of an outside shot at the pennant.

The Braves, counting on Max Surkont or Dick Donovan to be their fourth starter behind Warren Spahn, Johnny Sain and Vern Bickford, have the best front line pitching in the league. They almost had three 20-game winners last season and finished fourth.

Finding a second base combination and picking his outfield is Billy Southworth's problem.

Freeman manager Marty Marion of the Cards has his worries with an unsettled ball club. Marion, still limping from his knee operation, prob'ly will not open the season at short. Marty has been experimenting with his infield and outfield all spring. Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst and Enos Slaughter are the solid professionals. Pitching is top flight and with Tom Poholsky, a fine-looking rookie from Rochester, in the starting list, Leathenders still will be printing in each state.

Harry Oliver acquired the lease from the Fort Mohave Indian tribal council. It covers a 1000-foot strip of land one mile long. With Arizona a stone's throw away, Oliver believes he has found the ideal location for telling tall tales of the three states.

"Permit Merit Raises"

HOUSTON, April 10—(P)—Fred Saigh, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, said today the wage stabilization board's ruling on baseball salaries also permits merit raises for "such fellows as Stan Musial."

Saigh said he will ask the board as quickly as possible to permit Musial to keep his 1951 salary, reportedly $35,000 above the last year's $30,000.

The Cardinal president said Musial is the only player in the major leagues affected by today's ruling.

3 Yankee Stars Suffer Injuries That Hurt Club

DALLAS, Tex., April 11—(P)—Phil Rizzuto, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds were hospital bound on Tuesday.

On the results of their physical checkups at Johns Hopkins may hinge the New York Yankees' chances for another American League pennant and world's baseball championship.

Page, the Yankee's brilliant relief pitcher in 1949 was a disappointment last year, but before arm trouble popped up this spring, he flashed his old form.

Reynolds, a 16-game winner last season, hasn't been able to do much at all this spring because of his arm.

Rizzuto, the American League's most valuable player, said he didn't think his injury was serious.

"I expect to be on hand opening day," he said last night.

Rizzuto said he hurt his side playing and yesterday when he tried batting practice "it was a little bad."

Thorpe's Face And Spirit Lifted

By the Associated Press

ATLANTA, April 11—(P)—Big Jim Hearn, whose springtime pitching has left much to be desired, gets a chance to redeem himself today against Cleveland's hard-hitting Indians.

The New York Giant right hander has been hit so hard in exhibition games that rumors persist a few more thumpings may cost him his place as a starting pitcher. His opponent today will be Bob Feller.

BALTIMORE, April 11—(P)—Rotund Roy Campanella, crack catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is all set for the coming National league season. He is playing mid-season ball right now.

Campanella hit two singles and two doubles in four trips yesterday as the Dodgers downed Greensboro of the Class B Carolina league, 13-3.

The Brooks play Baltimore here tonight with lefties Joe Hatten and Preacher Roe scheduled to twirl against the Orioles.

LOUISVILLE, April 11—(P)—Ed Lopat looks like a cinch to pitch the opening game for the New York Yankees next Monday in Washington.

The crafty lefthander is the only regular hurler who has been consistently good in exhibition games.

Righthander Vic Raschi, ace of the staff, was slated for the inaugural, but he has come up with a sore left knee which prevents his coming down hard as he finishes his windup.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 11—(P)—Little Tommy Glaviano moved into the St. Louis Cardinals outfield as part of Manager Marty Marion's experiment on shifting players—but he didn't stay there long.

In the second inning of a game with the St. Louis Browns last night he crashed into the wall catching a fly. In a hospital he was reported suffering from a badly bruised right shoulder.

Ironically, a reporter had asked him in the club house prior to the game: "How are you on charing the walls?"

A grand slam homer by Sherm Lollar touched off a six-run ninth inning rally that gave the Browns a 7-6 edge over the Cardinals. Stan Musial cracked a home run for the Red Birds.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 11—(P)—Roy Coleman has won his contest with Jim Delsing for the St. Louis Browns' centerfield spot against righthanded pitching.

"There's not too much difference defensively," Manager Zack Taylor said. "Coleman has more power and he was a fine ball player when our club was hot near the end of last season. I wouldn't be surprised, though, if Delsing didn't have a lot of chances to show himself before the year's over."

DURHAM, N. C., April 11—(P)—Gene Verble, a young infielder up from Atlanta, has apparently run Cass Michaels right out of the Washington Senators starting lineup.

In his big bid for the second base job, Verble has been hitting like Michaels never did. Yesterday Verble banged out a double and two singles in Washington's 14-12 victory over Cincinnati.

Says Manager Bucky Harris, "The kid is thinking, and that's another thing I like about him."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 11—(P)—The Detroit Tigers stepped into a critical 48-hour period of their spring training today.

It was the final pre-season test of their one-two lefthander pitching punch—Hal Newhouser and Ted Gray.

Newhouser was ticketed to pitch against the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association today and Gray against the same team tomorrow.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 11—(P)—Boston's Red Sox come here today to play the Columbus Redbirds of the American Association with Billard Nixon listed to pitch for the big leaguers.

Nixon will go all nine innings—if he can.

Bill Wight, who has been convalescing after a virus attack was reported in good shape today after a brief workout yesterday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 11—(P)—The Boston Braves and New York Yankees will conclude their three game traveling series here today with righthander Vern Bickford listed to pitch for the National leaguers against the world champions.

The clubs are tied with one victory each in this jaunt. The Yanks evened things yesterday with a 2-2 triumph. Jo Jo Sain gave up two runs, the only earned scores he has permitted this spring while pitching 30 innings against big league competition.

Bickford is the most recent no-hit pitcher of the majors, a deed he accomplished the last season against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 11—(P)—The Chicago Cubs will try to even their spring series with a victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

The Sox hold a 2-1 edge in the city rivalry thus far. Cub manager Frankie Frisch plans to use Johnny Schmitz and Bob Schultz on the mound. Paul Richards of the Sox will counter with Lou Kretlow.

Ed McGhee, rookie Sox outfielder who was hit on the right wrist by a pitched ball at Chat-

Monday until late this week.

One thing is sure, however, Sewell repeated—Ewell (Bullwhip) Blackwell is going to pitch if he proves ready.

Otherwise, the honor will go to Howie Fox, who is shaping up as the Redleg's No. 2 hurler.

The Reds will continue their exhibition feuding with Washington's Senators today. Fox is slated to oppose Al Sima, bespectacled rookie southpaw.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 11—(P)—Little Murry Dickson will start on the mound for the Pittsburgh Pirates today against the Philadelphia Phillies.

It will be Erickson's last spring workout. He is slated to hurl the Bucs' home opener April 17 against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Robin Roberts will face Dickson in the final exhibition game between the two clubs. Each club has won two.

RICHMOND, Va., April 11—(P)—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics thinks infielder Tod Davis has a great chance of staying with the A's this year.

"In fact," said Jimmy who managed Davis in 1947 and part of 1948 at Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, "I'd say he has a chance of becoming a great ball player. He's still young, he has tremendous power and he's no slouch in the field."

ATLANTA, April 11—(P)—Orentes Minosa, the versatile Cuban, now looks like a good bet to take over first base for injured Luke Easter when the Cleveland Indians open the season next Tuesday.

He is the fourth member of the club to substitute at the spot this spring. Bob Kennedy and Fred Marsh tried it when Easter was first hurt this year, but the results were not satisfactory. Alie Clark got a chance after Easter tore a muscle in his left thigh Saturday and his performance wasn't much better.

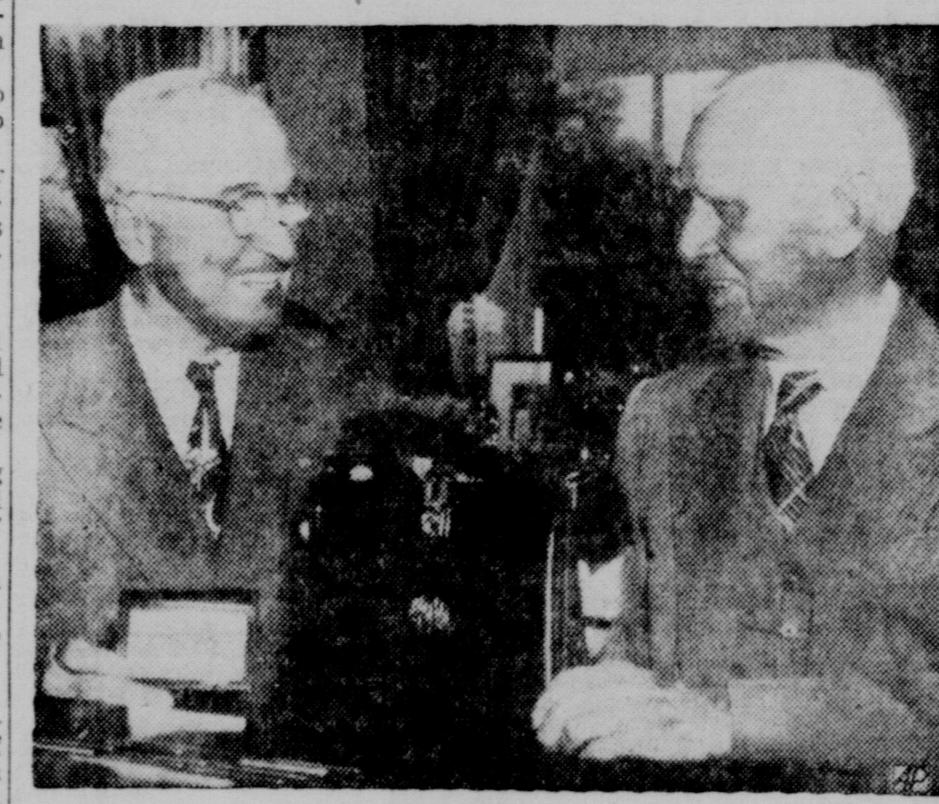

So efficient were old Indian Wilderness routes that practically all of today's transportation lines east of the Mississippi are based on them.

Truman Gets His Baseball Pass

President Truman gets his annual American league baseball pass—and a handbag for Mrs. Truman—from Clark Griffith, president of the Washington, D. C. Senators April 9. Mr. Truman grinned as he assured Griffith that he'd be on hand for the opening game here next Monday and that he'd make a southpaw pitch of the first ball. (AP Wirephoto)

Give Them Red Feet
According to an Arab legend, the dove returned to Noah's ark with an olive branch, and later returned from a second trip with red mud on its feet, showing that it had alighted on the ground. Ever since then, so goes the story, all doves have had red feet and legs.

Settings or waste materials in the bottom of petroleum storage tanks and in earthen pits yield valuable oil and wax in a process developed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Cobra Said To Make Love

MADRAS — (P) — Natives of nearby Calicut give a romantic twist to a tale of the cobra and the lady. The story tells of daily visits by the six-foot reptile to the house of a villager named Narayan. The snake faithfully follows Narayan's wife Narayani wherever she goes.

Narayani went from fright at first to her current attitude of respectful resignation. Popular belief runs that the snake is making love to the woman. It does not hesitate to slither into her bedroom, darting off only on the entrance of another human.

"Bombs bursting in air" now can splash the skies with clouds of bright-colored smoke in all the hues of the rainbow, either for Fourth of July daytime fireworks in peace, or for the grimmer purposes of determining artillery accuracy in war.

Six Years in White House Get Tumultuous to Truman

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, April 10—(P)—President Truman will have been in the White House six years on Thursday, April 12. They have been tremendous years, as tough as any president ever faced. How has he made out?

This can only hit some high spots.

When he succeeded President Roosevelt, the war was still on, in Europe and Asia. He led the country to peace in both places and then into the reconversion to peace and the greatest prosperity the country ever had.

Now he is leading the country back into a period of preparedness for war. When he entered the White House six years ago he had great popular support. Now the polls say his popularity has slipped away down.

It is not the first time his popularity slipped. It hit a low back in 1946 elections when the Republicans won control of Congress for the first time since 1932.

He surged back, when almost no one thought he had a chance, to a stunning victory in the presidential elections of 1948. He may come out of his present slump. It would be a sturdy prophet who would predict otherwise.

Communism Flares

But while Mr. Truman sat in the White House and the country grew fat and rich after the war, Communism spread like a flame in other parts of the world. During the war about 190,000,000 were under Communism in Russia.

Now the number is about 735,000,000 counting China, the satellites and part of Korea. And at this moment this country and its western allies are girding for what may be World War III with the Communist allies.

Whether Mr. Truman, short of war, could have prevented the spread of Communism anywhere that it has taken over is, of course, the subject of much debate, particularly when China is involved.

But it may be a century before the historians, with the benefit of records and the perspective of 100 years, can attempt to say with any authority that Mr. Truman could have changed the picture, short of war.

Certainly he sparked the Marshall plan which is credited in large part with not only stopping the spread of Communism to western Europe but even with pushing it into retreat there.

And under his leadership—by attacking to the help of Greece and Turkey to stop Communism there—this country broadened its ancient Monroe doctrine (protecting only the western hemisphere) and entered the role of world champion.

Mr. Truman expanded that role by leading the country into the Atlantic Pact, that league of western nations which have banded together and pledged themselves to go to war if Communism attacks.

In this he had the backing of the Senate last week when it said it wanted him to get Congress' okay before he commits any more American troops to Europe.)

He pushed the new American role of world champion into Asia, too, when he rushed American troops into Korea to stop Communism there. That has been a see-saw fight, with the outcome still uncertain, and over much

Homemakers of Bothwell Met

The Bothwell Homemakers club met April 4 at the home of Mrs. V. C. Abney with Mrs. Harry Runge assisting hostess. A noon luncheon was served.

Mrs. Earl Dirck read the afternoon devotional. Visitors were Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Rolla Ream, Mrs. Clarence Reed, Mrs. Telman Peters, Mrs. Clayton Stevens and Mrs. Clara Skinner.

A talk on "Color in the Home" was given by Mrs. Pete Fiddler assisted by Mrs. Howard Dirck.

An auction sale of flower seed, slips and bulbs was held.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Raus Sprinkles with Mrs. Roy Ream assisting hostess.

confusion now about our goal there.

Defense Program

At home, after delaying, he got the country started on a great defense program. That hasn't been all smooth sailing by a long shot and he's still trying to find a way to make it click.

Still, as the years pass, Mr. Truman seems more remote from the people. His talks to the nation have become fewer and fewer until the question is raised in many places: "Where is the leadership?"

And any control he had over Congress, even with his own Democrats back in the majority now, has been badly shattered. His programs are being given the go-slow treatment.

His critics have battered him, and he seems strangely silent, except for brief statements at a news conference now and then. He has shown no signs of meeting his harshest critics head-on, by carrying his case to the people to win wide popular support for his plans.

In short, he's been on the receiving end of criticism without much evidence of that aggressive spirit he showed when he campaigned for the presidency in 1948, when everyone thought it was a lost cause.

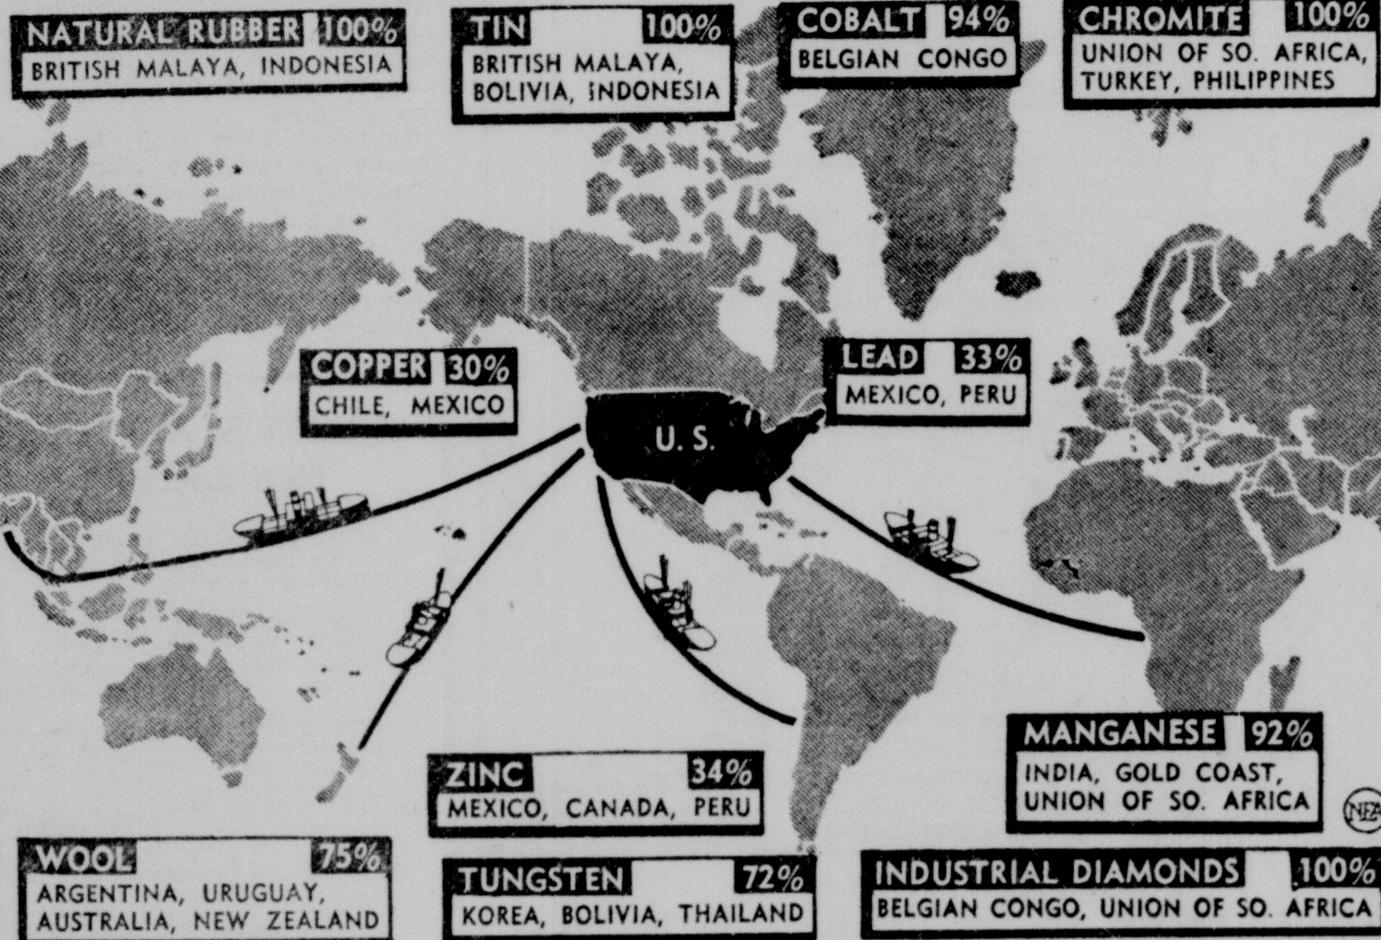

And there's no doubt a lot of public confidence in his administration has been shaken by the attacks made on it, such as charges of Communism in government and the State department, including a no-confidence vote in his Secretary of State Acheson by the Republicans in Congress.

Mr. Truman expanded that role by leading the country into the Atlantic Pact, that league of western nations which have banded together and pledged themselves to go to war if Communism attacks.

In this he had the backing of the Senate last week when it said it wanted him to get Congress' okay before he commits any more American troops to Europe.)

He pushed the new American role of world champion into Asia, too, when he rushed American troops into Korea to stop Communism there. That has been a see-saw fight, with the outcome still uncertain, and over much

WHY WE CAN'T LIVE ALONE AND LIKE IT (U.S. Dependence on Imports of Strategic Materials)

While the United States is relatively self-sufficient, we must still rely on foreign nations for huge quantities of basic materials to feed our great industrial machine. The Newsmap above, based on data from Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson's recent report to the President, shows the principal sources of several major strategic materials and our percentage of dependence on imports of each. As the rearmament program is stepped up, Wilson warns, our need for foreign supplies becomes greater. An encouraging note is that only three per cent of our total imports come from Soviet Russia and its satellites.
